About Us

Om Enterprises is one of the reliable companies with a focus on providing stylish, reliable, and practical lipstick packaging solutions that respond to the changing market needs. As a producer and distributor, we are dedicated to ensuring that all our products are appealing, durable, and convenient. Our quality and functionality promise have enabled us to develop long-term relationships with our customers who want reliable packaging of their cosmetic brands and personal care products. Its product lineup consists of liquid lipstick containers, square lipstick containers, and empty lipstick containers, which are meant to improve the presentation of products besides making them easy to use. Each container is designed keeping up with the contemporary packaging demands. Classy and robust designs are aesthetically pleasing, whereas high-quality finishing is used in order to make the products shine on shelves. The mechanisms of smooth twists are easily operated and comfortable to the user. The containers would be appropriate to daily handling and transportation as they are leak-resistant, allowing safe storage and reducing wastage. Lightweight and transportable frameworks are convenient to end users, whereas precisely machined parts are dependable in the long term.

We know that packaging is significant in brand identity. To this end, tailored styles are provided to assist the businesses to match containers with their branding themes, target audience preferences, and market positioning. It could be the old-fashioned elegance, the new-fashioned, or the practical everyday packs; we offer solutions with the right balance between beauty and usability.
