

High Performance Double Drum Magnetic Separator

The High Performance Double Drum Magnetic Separator is designed for efficient separation of ferrous impurities from dry granular and free-flowing materials. Featuring dual magnetic drums for enhanced recovery and higher separation efficiency, it is widely used in minerals, ceramics, chemicals, food processing, and recycling industries. Its rugged construction, reliable performance, low maintenance, and continuous operation make it ideal for demanding industrial applications.

