About Us

KEI Industries Ltd is dedicated to delivering industries and homes with state-of-the-art wire and cable solutions. As a company with the capability of manufacturing and supplying a diversified range of cabling products, it is at the forefront of electrical technology and is relied upon across the industry for its uncompromised quality and engineering abilities. From cold headed wires and thin stainless steel wires to welding wires of high performance, ht cables, lt cables, and instrument cables, all are symbols of reliability and strength. Advanced products like rubber cables, electric aluminum armoured cable, homecab-fr cable, cat 6 lan cable, electric pvc cable, and telephone cable are designed for flawless transmission and made strong enough to bear the problems of the present.

Founded in 1968 with its headquarters in New Delhi, India, KEI Industries Ltd. has evolved as one of the most reliable names in wire and cable production. Starting as a humble enterprise concentrating on rubber cables for domestic wiring, the business has diversified its product lines to cater to a broad spectrum of products like cold heading wires, fine stainless steel wires, welding wire, ht cables, lt cables, rubber cables, electric aluminum armoured cable, among others. As a supplier and manufacturer, our company has established itself as a quality brand through its provision of high-performance solutions based on innovation, reliability, and safety. With more than 6000 staff and a robust infrastructure, we provide uniform quality and international reach. Every product showcases precision engineering designed to cater to today's electrical systems, so KEI becomes the connectivity enabler in industries and homes as well.
