About Us

Farmson Biotech Pvt. Ltd. is passionate and dedicated to the agriculture sector in India, which has strong agri-entrepreneurship culture and a history of highly qualified skills and provides a sustainable farming idea to the farming community. We are active in the production, packing, trading, and export of all types of hybrid, open pollinated, and organic seeds.

Good seeds help the economic viability of the farmer and maximize global agricultural productivity, food quality, and cost-effectiveness of crops. Hybrid seeds production is a combination of our company's decades of ingenuity, innovation, and modern equipment. This motivates us to create sustainable seed varieties to suit every situation and provide high-yielding disease-resistant quality seed to the farmers. We want to raise the standard of living of small farming families, who depend only on agricultural production for their livelihood. Such farming families are informed by education and training for farming new techniques. The proper process of producing various crops, value addition of crops, supply and demand forecast along with pre-harvest and post-harvest management in various stages of farming.
