About Us

We at S R Pharma have a team of experts that gathers every day to work relentlessly and deliver maximum benefits to clients. They utilize their energy, experience, and passion to design absolutely the best range of Filling Machines, Sticker Labeling Machines, Bottle Capping Machines, Powder Filling Machines, and Pouch Packing Machines. Their daily works are geared towards lending a meaningful impact to the businesses of our clients who seek standardized and customized machining solutions at a single stop.

We know that how you price your products play an equally important role as the quality you offer. Therefore, as a manufacturer and exporter, we not only design products to be reliable and user-friendly but also price them reasonably. Our aim is to minimize client investment and maximize their delight. We order raw materials and parts that are of genuine quality and then adopt streamlined production practices so that we can come up with machine designs that extend the best value to clients. We have good control over our production techniques, which also helps us cut down on wastage and deliver cost-saving benefits to customers. If you too want to optimize your filling, packaging, sealing, labeling, and other processes, know that we are just a call away.

Products that can consistently cater to the quality and functionality needs of customers do not manifest themselves. Behind our comprehensive product portfolio is a team that makes it happen. No matter the order size, the size of the project, or the level of quality and customization expected by a customer, our team knows how to burn the midnight oil to complete projects to excellence. Their goal is to create products that perfectly align with the application needs of customers from the packaging, pharma, cosmetics, food & beverages, and allied industries.
