About Us

Barcode Labels are widely used in various industries like pharmaceutical and healthcare for different purposes like inventory management, product identification and for product tracking. ESG India is the prime source in India which deals in Barcode Labels like Colored Barcode Labels and Thermal Labels. Established in 2021, within a few years of incorporation, we have carved a niche as a respected manufacturer and supplier in the market. With complete dedication and honesty, we are doing our jobs and trying to bring forth the best quality products for the customers. The materials we used for manufacturing the products are of top-quality because they are sourced from certified vendors.

The organization is successfully executing its business operations with the help of skilled and knowledgeable professionals. The team members work in sync and share ideas & knowledge with each other which help them in attaining the common goals of the organization. Our employees follow all the rules & regulations of the company and further maintain the highest standards of quality while manufacturing the final products. Moreover, the ultimate aim of the company is to deliver top-notch products to the clients which exceed their expectations.

At Mayapuri, New Delhi; we have built a well-equipped infrastructure facility which covers a wide piece of land. The infrastructure has all the adequate facilities which are required for the smooth flow of the business operations. From the latest technologies to hi-tech machinery, we have installed all the amenities to produce unmatched quality Thermal Labels and Colored Barcode Labels. The segregation of the infrastructure is done according to the different functions performed in the unit pertaining to production, quality testing, packaging, storage, sales, marketing, etc.
