About Us

Looking for products that show unmatched efficiency throughout their service lives? Then contact Jay Ambe Engineering And Fabrication- a growing company from Ahmedabad in the state of Gujarat that deals in Boiler Parts, Coal Crusher, Industrial Boiler, Radiant Coil, etc.

Understanding the complexities involved in making forgings and welded parts, we well integrate our capabilities as a manufacturer and supplier to deliver outstanding outcomes on every manufacturing project taken. We devote the best of resources to create quality products and evaluate them on multiple parameters before finalizing deliveries. We have a commendable monthly production capacity and can even cater to orders placed in bulk from diverse industry segments. By doing everything, from manufacture, quality testing to product packaging inhouse, we manage saving valuable time and resources of our company and our clients. Our expert junior engineers, senior engineers, quality inspectors and packaging personnel are trained for specific jobs and work together to deliver products of unbeatable quality. From complex mechanical tests, random chemical analysis to a series of non-destructive product inspection, our quality inspectors and other experts check each single piece through a keen set of eyes. Even when products are manufactured to customized specifications, they are checked and cross checked on many parameters of dimensional preciseness and finish before being packaged for delivery.
