About Us

Jay Chemicals is a leading provider of moisture control products, fine chemicals, intermediates for APIs and many other goods. In business since 2001, the company as a supplier, trader and retailer has been meeting needs of a broad range of industries and end users. Customers from across important industry sectors like mining, electrical, cleanroom facilities, pharmaceutical, food and beverages demand its range of high-grade Silica Gel, Calcium Hydroxide, Hydrated Lime Powder, Fluoride Removal Activated Alumina and other such products. Working alongside them, it helps them find the right solutions as per specific application.

Why Choose Us?

We have a well-managed R&D division with a pilot plant facility, which helps us offer Silica Gel and other such products in customized amount. Our proven track record of many years has attracted many clients who are more than satisfied with our Qualitative Products and our Quick Services.

Our Mentor

Under the mentorship of Mr. Jay N. Goswami, we have scaled heights and commercialized high-grade products for sale across the domestic market. Our aim is to rely on his expertise to pursue long-term business partnership opportunities with as many clients as possible from different regions of India and beyond in the future.

Our Vendors & Clients

We know how to come up with reliable and functionally efficient products that cater to the ever-changing needs of the dynamic market. Over the years, we have employed the right trading strategies with our vendor partners to meet needs for quality products, both in small batches and large amounts (ranging from milligram to tonnes). Expertise of our associates and our own flexibility has helped us address order needs of the longstanding clients. From custom synthesis to professional contract manufacturing services, we can handle it all. We boast of having handled yearly contracts with many multinational companies all over India.
