About Us

Our company, Micro Sheet Crafts (India) Private Limited is receiving a great deal of recognition for our high-quality departmental racks. We offer a wide selection of extremely sturdy products such as Supermarket Display Rack, Hypermarket Display Rack, End Side Grocery Rack, Garment Hanging Display Stand, Garment Hanging Display Rack, and more. Our clients can maximize the space of their store with our unique selection of supermarket display racks. Since department store owners confront many obstacles, we combine our inventiveness and imagination to create racks that are the greatest quality possible.

Because our wall display racks and supermarket display racks are made of high-quality materials, the products of our clients will be safe while in transit. Furthermore, until purchase is finally shipped, our well-organized warehouse facilities effectively manages these products. With state-of-the-art machinery and an internal manufacturing plant, we can produce high-quality racks that maximize the storage space of our clients. Our highly qualified and informed staff is always improving to provide our customers with the best service possible. We make sure our racking solutions fulfill the highest quality standards twice before delivering them to the customer. We create objects that are extremely strong, rigid, and able to support a lot of weight. As one of the leading manufacturer, supplier, trader, and wholesaler in Delhi, India, we provide timely delivery and 24-hour customer support. Our products are approved by ISO for supermarket and retail sectors, as well as approved by the Indian government under Udyog Aadhar.

Departmental display rack use has several advantages such as keeping stocks organized. They come in a variety of styles and rack configurations, and they are easily transportable between places. It facilitates the management of storekeepers. Departmental Racks facilitate more effective space utilization and allow for accurate item presentation, which saves time and money. Our valued clients place a high value on the offered product line because of its features such as durability, longer service life, compact design, and dependable performance. These goods are offered in a range of sizes and designs to meet the diverse needs of many people. Our entire product line is meticulously inspected in our quality testing department, from the point of raw material use to the point of final shipment to the customer. Our staff of highly skilled quality inspectors that we have hired gives us the ability to deliver these products in compliance with international standards. Every product in the line is meticulously inspected based on predetermined standards to guarantee its longevity and quality. We have designed and built a sizable warehouse that is equipped with all the conveniences needed to supply our final products with a protected environment. Thanks to our effective transportation facilities, we can now deliver the products to our consumers within the allotted period.
