What is the MEDIQUA alkaline water ionizer?

The Mediqua Alkaline water ionizer is a machine that changes the pH level of water to make it more alkaline using a process called electrolysis. It separates the water into two streams, one more alkaline and the other more acidic, and allows the user to select which stream to use (9 kinds of water). The Mediqua is also used to improve the taste of water and provide health benefits associated with drinking alkaline water.

Advantages of Terahertz

Terahertz (THz) technology is an emerging area of study with applications in various fields, including its impact on water molecules. When terahertz waves are applied to hydrogen water, the molecular structure and properties of the water may be altered, potentially enhancing its benefits.

Restructures Water Molecules
Terahertz waves resonate with the vibrational frequency of water molecules, influencing their structure. In cerases more uniform clusters, also smaller, more uniform clusters.

Enhances Hydrogen Retention
Hydrogen gas (H<sub>2</sub>) is the active component in hydrogen water, providing its antioxidant and therapeutic effects. Terahertz waves may stabilize dissolved hydrogen in the water, ensuring that hydrogen remains active.

H<sub>2</sub> Improves Energy and Vibration Levels
Terahertz technology is thought to increase the vibrational energy of water molecules, potentially aligning with the body's natural bistrerence. This alignment may enhance the energy, and bioavailability of water.

Boosts Antioxidant Potential
By modifying the molecular structure of water, terahertz-treated hydrogen water may increase its ability to neutralize free radicals, enhancing the water's efficacy in combating oxidative stress and reducing inflammation.

5. Supports Cellular Function

The modifying molecular structure and increased bioavailability of terahertz-treated hydrogen water may optimize cellular hydration and nutrient delivery. This can enhance energy production in cells, boost metabolic processes, and support overall health.

Regular drinking of Charged Terahertz Water helps to enhance human cell activity, reduce blood viscosity, expel waste and toxins, repair every cell, and makes it more healthy and vigorous. This water possesses a single water molecule that makes it easier to pass through cell membrane water channels with kinetic energy. This quick, high penetrating force has strong dissolving. After entering the body, its constant resonance with the cells allows transporting more nutrients, minerals and oxygen that are beneficial to the body. It enters every corner of the cell, so our cells are filled with clean, vibrant and nutritious liquid molecules. This can greatly promote the growth, development and activity of cells. This is why "This water can be used in beauty and moisture our skin."

MEDICAL DEVICE CERTIFIED BY THE KOREA FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION (KFDA)

There are papers and certifications that attest to the benefits of alkaline water. They have shown that alkaline water helps maintain blood pH levels and promotes the removal of waste from the body and circulation, thus aiding in overall health.
