About Us

As per a survey, workplace injuries are mostly caused by the body strain that happens due to lifting of heavier objects. For avoiding such injuries, it is necessary to make use of appropriate material handling equipment. Considering the importance of right material handling equipment in the industries, we, Amit Engineering, began our business voyage as a manufacturer and supplier of wide variety of material handling equipment. Leveraging upon the skills and experience of our leaders, Mr. G. B. Patil and Mr. Ajit; we suffice the demands of our customers for high quality Indian Hand Pallet Truck and more. We have been keeping up our impressive track record of maintaining consistency both in product quality and timely product delivery. For this reason; all the potential customers of this domain prefer associating with us over our counterparts.

Amit Engineering belongs to a small district in Maharashtra, India called as Chikhli. From there, we began big name in the sector of material handling equipment all because of our hard work, passion for work and strong determination to achieve the best quality in everything that we do.
