About Us

Storage is a big issue for many businesses. Even the big names in the industry face the same storage problems. However, to help them manage their storage in less space, we, Still Storage Systems have stepped into the market. We serve an exclusive range of long-lasting Plastic Pallets, Medium Duty Storage Racks, Market Storage Racks, Mobile Compactors, and more products. And are widely recognized as a reputed manufacturer and supplier in the market. It is the appreciation of our customers, the support of our professionals, and our motivation to gratify the customers with a worthwhile experience, that drives our growth and does not allow us to settle down with anything less than the best. We put our heart and blood into carrying out all our operations, smoothly, ensuring no extra production costs are spent and we deliver the products that hold the capability to cater to the maximum requirements of the customers.

Riding high on success since the year 1998, we, Still Storage Systems are well-known as a trusted manufacturing and supplying company in the market. We offer a wide range of storage products that help other businesses with managing storage problems. Our product portfolio includes perfectly constructed Mobile Compactors, Market Storage Racks, Medium Duty Storage Racks, Plastic Pallets, and more products. All these products are manufactured in New Delhi, India, our primary work location, under the guidance of our proficient professionals. Our professionals use the highest-grade raw materials to manufacture the products. And they are certified and competent enough to assist us in providing our valued customers with an excellent customer experience and a top-of-the-line product range in exchange for nominal prices.
