About Us

We established H.D. Transformers back in the year 2017, and since then, we have served as a manufacturer and supplier for a broad variety of high-end transformers. Electric Distribution Transformer, Three Phase Oil Cooled Transformer, Three Phase Power Distribution Transformer, Three Phase Furnace Transformer, and many other highly efficient products are included in our vast collection. The reason the final product is flawless is because we have always used the best-in-class raw materials in the production process. In order to keep our product prices as competitive as possible, we do in-depth market research on our competitors. We additionally remain transparent whenever treating the customers. All in all, our economically priced yet premium range of transformers have helped us significantly expand our business.

The infrastructure of our company is dispersed across a large area and was constructed using modern architectural designs. Thanks to our newly built facility, which is equipped with high-end machinery and equipment, we process a unique product line which includes Three Phase Oil Cooled Transformer, Three Phase Furnace Transformer, Electric Distribution Transformer, Three Phase Power Distribution Transformer, and many more. However, we make sure that every product is thoroughly inspected after being carefully processed in our facilities. A highly qualified and experienced team has also been put together to supervise all operations related to our infrastructure. All in all, our well-built infrastructure enables us to quickly and efficiently respond to the constantly growing demands of the customers.
