About Us

RagHAV Polymers was started after analyzing heavy market demands for TPR Granules, and TPE Granules such as Crystal TPE Granules, Black TPE Granules, TPE Colourful Granules, and White TPE Granules. These thermoplastic materials exhibit rubber-like properties, and find their high use in footwear, consumer goods, automotive and construction sector. As a manufacturer, we hold expertise in developing granules of TPR and TPE that have high flexibility, resilience of rubber and ability to mold or extrude for making various items. Our offered products are also assured of having resistance against various chemicals, high elasticity and durability. Furthermore, our TPR and TPE granules are offered in different specifications and packs of different quantities to meet the diverse demands of customers. We charge highly reasonable rates for providing our thermoplastic products to customers as a result we meet demands of a huge clientele.

Our company believes that the quality of products is more than just a standard in the market, it is a reflection of our commitment to customers and business. We take into account the need to deliver high-class TPE and TPR Granules and, hence, keep up with industry standards. We conduct thorough quality checks across the production chain to deliver a reliable range. At our premises, we have set up many quality control checks in our process to control the consistency, quality, and perfection of our product. Our premises, which are furnished with cutting-edge test equipment and operated by dedicated and competent personnel, also allow us to provide quality products at all times.
