

Hose Clamp - Product Description

Description:

The image shows a stainless steel worm-drive hose clamp commonly used for securing hoses onto fittings or pipes. It features an adjustable metal band with perforations and a screw mechanism that allows tightening or loosening the clamp using a screwdriver or wrench. Hose clamps are widely used in automotive, plumbing, industrial, and household applications to prevent leakage and ensure a tight seal.