

Metal Hose Clamp - Product Description

Description:

The image displays a metal worm-drive hose clamp used for fastening and sealing hoses onto pipes or fittings. It is constructed from durable corrosion-resistant metal and features an adjustable perforated band with a screw-tightening mechanism for secure installation. Hose clamps like this are commonly used in automotive, plumbing, industrial, and household applications to ensure leak-proof and reliable connections.