About Us

Darshan Connectors is an established name in the electrical components industry, best known for providing products engineered for the more efficient and safe distribution of low-voltage power systems. As a Manufacturer and supply partner, our firm is committed to creating rugged, high-performance products that become critical components of the operations of both industries and commercial establishments. All engineered products also demonstrate precision, performance, and purpose in every component produced, ensuring added value for clients.

We offer products which include DMCHRC fuses, porcelain kit-kat fuses, copperaluminium bus bars, brass single piece die castings, bakelite fuse holders, and low tension current transformers. Each product is purposely engineered based on our ability to provide an electrical connection under the increasing demands of a range of energy systems, especially providing reliable outputs, even while appropriately protecting electronics at the same time, under the most extreme electrical systems, as well as in extreme electrical and environmental conditions, or zones.
