About Us

Parvathi Labels is a reputable producer of high-performance labeling solutions. Our labeling solutions provide reliability, design precision, and durability for some of the most demanding industries. We have developed labeling solutions to provide clarity on a machine dial or traceability of a product through a complicated supply chain; we engineer our labels to perform under pressure. Our product range includes automotive speedometer dials labels, printed barcode labels, foam die cuts labels, etc., with a focus on security warning and caution labels, all manufactured with the same high-level standards to meet industrial expectations.

Parvathi Labels is extremely capable of utilizing adhesive technology, while simultaneously providing expertise to understand the unique needs of our clients. We certainly challenge the boundaries of label performance whether high temperatures, moisture, or abrasion or providing tamper resistance. Our labels can be used with automated labeling systems, which can reduce human complexities while increasing speed and consistency across production lines.
