

Screw Clamp

The image shows a heavy-duty screw clamp manufactured from mild steel. It is designed to securely hold, fasten, or clamp components during railway, fabrication, construction, and industrial maintenance operations. The clamp features a threaded adjustment screw for firm gripping, a robust frame for durability, and a corrosion-resistant metallic finish for long service life.

