About Us

Our goal at Atul Crane And Components is to provide dependable lifting and material handling solutions that enable efficient industrial operations. As a manufacturer and supplier, we prioritize using robust engineering, reliable components, and functional designs to address various lifting needs. All solutions are designed to maximize the performance of operations, safety, durability and maintenance requirements, allowing businesses to move material with greater confidence. It comes with a comprehensive range of products, such as electric wire rope hoist, construction wire hoist, single girder EOT crane, crab trolley, electric winch, and gantry crane, offering a variety of options for different industrial applications and load-handling needs.

Quality-based manufacturing practices ensure consistent product performance and application-oriented designs enable lifting equipment to be chosen based on work requirements. Smooth load movement and reliable operation are also carefully considered to allow equipment to make a contribution to productive working environments. Long term use and ownership are further assured by durable construction and low maintenance. We take a proactive role in customer needs to ensure the application requirements are understood and the appropriate material handling solution implemented, not a generic "one size fits all" solution.
