About Us

It takes years to reach a respectable position and not even an hour in ruining it with a disgraceful show of work and products' quality. Being aware of this truth, we are keeping consistency in quality work in order to maintain a glorious business position intact. Embracing business roles of importer and trader, we are serving Plastic Raw Materials like HDPE Granules, PP Polymers and PET Lumps, HD Pipe Grindings, etc. Offerings are sourced from respectable sources, which employ modern manufacturing techniques. Sourcing partners from both national and international countries are chosen on the basis of quality production, previous dealing record and financial stability.

In the year 2009, we, A 1 Impex, have entered the competitive business world with an intent to dominate. In this period of more than 10 years, we have managed to fulfill our purpose by becoming one of those few companies, which enjoy domination over a larger market-base. Our Mumbai (Maharashtra, India), settled company performs international trading operations with sincerity. International trading norms and regulations are followed for sourcing from overseas markets. Our company trades and supplies PET Flakes, HDPE Pipe Crush, PET Lumps, etc. We have an association with Polymer Lab for stringent testing on range to ensure products comply with industry standards.

Packaging & Professionals

In our mission of meeting customers' demand on time, we are supported by a group of qualified professionals who hold the potential of turning prospective customers into loyal business partners. These employees maintain in warehousing facility, products in a large quantity in order to make the company stay 24/7 in a position to meet sudden demands of markets.

Packaging is another factor, which besides quality enhances a product's market value. Knowing this well, we invest heavily in modern packaging techniques. This assists in well-packaging products, which results in quality shipment. Innovative and strong packaging work as a successful route to reach customers' hearts.
