About Us

Pragati Electronics, which was founded in 2001, is a well-known manufacturer and supplier of Electronic Door Interlocking System, Flameproof Hooter With Acknowledgment, Door Interlock System, Flameproof Manual Call Point, Die Cast Aluminium Flameproof Digital Clock, etc. We have exceptional application options and implementations for our well-engineered systems and products. Now that we have shown ourselves our worth in the Indian market, we intend to expand into the global arena. Whether it is security systems or controlling access and atmosphere, we can meet the various needs of a wide range of sectors. Our organization has developed and achieved great success thanks to the innovative leadership of our founder, Mr. Pradeep Budbadkar. He works tirelessly to continue providing our clients with high-quality goods and guided the team in right direction to attain the desired results.

We have a dedicated quality control section to keep an eye on the caliber of our output. The department is fully prepared to carry out a variety of tests to guarantee that the products are consistently of a high caliber. Reputable vendors provide all raw materials, including plastic enclosures for product assembly, electronic components, and spare parts. The ultimate product will be of the highest quality due to superior material used. Further, the quality control department runs a number of tests, including heat testing, vibration testing, load testing and more.
