About Us

R H Enterprises from Rajasthan is a manufacturer that specializes in making various anatomical models and educational tools that are specially designed to train medical practitioners, including ENT students, gynecologists, and obstetricians, etc. We showcase excellent craftsmanship skills and make lifelike Intra Uterine Device Insertion Models, Fiber Human Ear Models, Human Skeleton Models, CPR Training Mannequins, Fetus With Placenta, etc. Only the most durable and lightweight materials that are also the finest in quality are used in their manufacturing so that products mimic the exact texture and resistance of human tissues. This improves the realism of the overall training experience so that students can get the necessary skills and expertise. Our models help them explore and get a good understanding of the complex interplay of different structures involved in various body parts.

Our aim being to offer products that efficiently bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application in the field of healthcare, we leave no stone unturned to exhibit excellence in the field. We follow international quality control norms and recruit experts who work with precision and confidence to create the product range we offer. Their job is to work unitedly as per the advancements happening in the landscape of medical education and training so that we can offer promising products that feature excellent utility and educational value and deliver maximum returns to buyers.

We owe a lot to our mentor, Mr. Rahul Sharma, who is a visionary entrepreneur and steers the business of R H Enterprises so that it can cater to diverse medical disciplines with its range. His goal has always been to craft innovative anatomical models and educational tools that prove to be invaluable in classrooms, simulation centers, and medical facilities. Today, we are proud of his leadership and wish to rank even higher in the field with his support.
