About Us

Since inception in 2009, Premchand Jute & Industries Private Limited has been sustaining a strong business positioning in the Indian jute industry with its exclusive jute products and client-centric management principles. Equipped with excellent manpower and world class production machineries, the company aims to lend an innovative edge in the jute manufacturing sector, emerge as a formidable leader in the industry, and revolutionize how the entire jute industry is perceived across various global markets. The company boasts of a streamlined management model and banks on its forward-looking business approach and its emphasis on "Green Jute and quality products that align with prescribed industry norms. The quality approach of the company can be best described through one of the most famous quotes by Henry Ford - "Quality means doing it right when no one is looking".

Adoption of modern principles, a strict focus on offering value added products and stringent quality control measures are factors that give Premchand Jute & Industries Private Limited its winning niche in the market today. Uncompromising quality and exemplary after sales support has further catapulted the Premchand brand amongst the best, ensuring its continual and exponential business growth. Over the years, the company has made smart investments on technology and installed sophisticated machinery and equipment across its various business units. Additionally, it has made significant investments on empowering its employees through continuous training and motivational sessions and programmes.
