

12mm Steel Core Vent

Description: The image shows precision-manufactured 12mm steel core vents made from high-quality polished steel. These components feature a grooved top surface and knurled sides for enhanced grip and functionality. They are durable, corrosion-resistant, and suitable for industrial, engineering, and ventilation-related applications requiring reliable performance and long service life.

