

White Dry Ice Slices

This image shows white dry ice slices made from solid carbon dioxide (CO_2). These slices are widely used for cold-chain logistics, food storage, pharmaceutical transportation, laboratory cooling, industrial applications, and special effects. Dry ice sublimates directly into carbon dioxide gas without leaving moisture, making it an efficient and clean cooling solution.