About Us

Jain MEP Engineering & Projects LLP was founded in October 2015 in New Delhi, India, with a clear vision: to serve custom machines, precision Spare-parts and consumable items for the bulk solids handling industry. Our Main Products are bulk material loading bellows (telescopic chute / Loading spout), Rotary airlocks, Screw conveyors, sleeve couplings, Fluidizing Pads, Non-return Valves for pneumatic lines (NRVs), Silo aerators etc. We manufacture mainly loading bellows & in-house. And other products we buy directly from our associated manufacturers. We bargain hard to get the best price; our quality engineers and team inspect at all critical stages and then pass the savings on to you. We keep our costs low because every penny we save is yours.

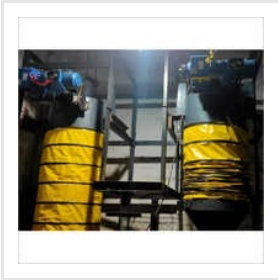

With each successful project, our reputation grew and gradually expanded our customer base worldwide. Today, JMEP machines and parts can be found across India. We have also started serving the globe, working for some of the world's leading companies. We are famous for our quick response, and we offer the best value for our products. We stay open for our customers throughout the day. With such a diverse team from many different places, we bring a unique perspective to everything we do.

Founded in 2015, our fast-thriving enterprise, Jain MEP Engineering & Projects LLP, offers the finest solutions for Ash Handling & Pneumatic Conveying Systems. Our company is continuously solidifying its presence in the global marketplace with flawless production, trading and supply of many products. Located in Delhi (India), it is our ultimate target to reach out to the maximum required industries in distinct sectors and fulfil their exact demands for items such as Polyester Staple Fiber Air Slide Fabric, Industrial Valve Assembly, MS Fluidising Pads, Industrial Screw Conveyor, Bin Vibrating Aerator and many more.
